

Azza Mahfouz is a highly accomplished businesswoman from Alexandria, Egypt.

As the CEO and founder of Alex pharmacies; she has built a successful chain of pharmacies that provide high-quality healthcare services to the local community.

Through her leadership; Alex Pharmacies has become a well-known and respected brand in Egypt, offering a range of pharmaceutical products and services

Prior to starting her own business; she has had a distinguished career in the pharmaceutical industry. Starting as a medical representative at Wyeth International before rising through the ranks to become a medical supervisor and regional sales manager. During her work in Wyeth International she gained valuable experience in the pharmaceutical industry.

Mahfouz's expertise in the pharmaceutical industry is backed by her academic qualifications. She has a bachelor's degree in pharmacy from Alexandria University where she also worked as a tutor sharing her knowledge and expertise with the next generation of pharmacists.

Her contributions to the field have earned her recognition, including being named as one of the top influential figures in the pharmaceutical industry in Alexandria.

Aside from her work in the pharmaceutical industry; Mahfouz is also actively involved in business and community organizations. She is currently the president of Alexandria Businesswomen Association ABWA and has been instrumental in promoting entrepreneurship and economic growth in Alexandria.

Mahfouz's dedication to her work and her community has made her a role model for aspiring entrepreneurs and business leaders.